Mr. Cleveland's recent letter to the Calhoun monument association, was another bid for southern popularity.

Mr. Leiter, formerly of Field, Leiter & Co., of Chicago, recently paid $1,000 for a bible. The book seemed to strike him as a peculiar and rare one, and was probably the first one he ever saw.

Mr. Quay, the republican state treasurer of Pennsylvania, who was elected United States senator last winter, will not accept any senatorial salary until he resigns the treasuryship. The United States will thus be in pocket three or four thousand dollars by next December.

"Judge Lynch," of South Carolina, who has done some fine work in hanging murderers, is out with a card in which he justifies himself by saying that the law is too solidly democratic state "has become so corrupt that respectable citizens no longer have any faith in it. What was that we heard a few years ago about the millennium coming in when those dreadful 'carpet-baggers' were driven out of South Carolina?"

George William Curtis says the only chance of salvation for the democratic party is to nominate Mr. Cleveland, and Mr. Cleveland declares emphatically that he will not be nominated again. According to Dr. Carter's diagnosis, the democratic party is in a bad way. —Chicago Journal.

Don't be too sure about Mr. Cleveland declining a renomination. The report has been sent out that he has done so, but a dispatch from Washington says that Mr. Cleveland's private secretary denies that the president ever said to any senator or to anyone else, that he would not accept a second term if he could get it. The presidential bed still remains in Cleveland's bonnet.

In the forthcoming article on "Pharaoh" in the May Century, Professor J. A. Paine (who will be remembered as the identifier of Mt. Pisgah) advances the novel theory that Ramezes the Great married his own daughter, the patroness of Moses. It has been held by some authorities that this "Pharaoh's daughter" was the child of Seti I, who preceded Ramezes the Great, and to uniting herself to Ramezes she married her own brother, Professor Paine, however, points out indications and evidence pointing that these were not the daughter, but the granddaughter, of Seti, and that she married her own father.

The Independent is a great newspaper, and generally hits the mark. But it blunders in this, that it announces with all possible solemnity that "Arthur Richmond" is Gail Hamilton. It also announces that Gail Hamilton is the sister-in-law of James G. Blaine. Now Gail Hamilton is not the sister-in-law of James G. Blaine, never was, and humbly speaking, never can be. The Arthur Richmond letters are quite sharp enough to match the pen of Miss Dodge, but she does not write them. It may be William Henry Harrison, but, however, the writer of the letters is beyond the ken of the Independent.

The city council of Beloit is keeping abreast with the times on the license question. A Saturday dispatch from that city says: "The council last night fixed the price of liquor license at $700 for retail and wholesale license, both to be taken together and no other to be issued. There will be from twelve to fourteen saloons under these circumstances. The fee is the same as last year. The number of saloons will be less." If the Janesville city council would act as wisely as that of Beloit, there would be less drunkenness and crime in this city, as many of the vilest saloons would have to close their doors under a heavy tax.

Father Phelan has done as much as any other priest or minister in the west or southwest, to preach down corruption in office, and in the Western Watchman (Catholic) of St. Louis, he has the courage to say: "In Chicago and New York nearly all the bootleggers are Irish Catholics. It is shameful; but what are we going to do about it? We must put a mild disclaimer right before these belated-stuffing and bootlegging Irish Catholics never go to church. The ballot-burglars of St. Louis are our parishioners. They never go to church on their Sundays are spent in saloons or driving their bloated Molis along the frequented thoroughfares. The ballot-burglars are a more cowardly and dirtier race of penitentiary birds; nothing more. The priests do not speak of the crime of ballot-stuffing any more than they do of burglary for the very good reason that the ballot stuffers, like the burglars, never come within ear-shot of the pulpit."

Speaking of the effect of the inter-state commerce bill, one of the best writers and most practical man on railway subjects, writes this to the New York Tribune: "To understand how this change will work, it is necessary to observe how the gradual reduction of rates under free competition has worked. Twenty years ago through rates were about three times those lately charged, and on a bushel of wheat from Chicago to New York about 45 cents, against 15 cents during the last season. This great reduction of rates has not added 30 cents to the price which western farmers obtain for their wheat, nor has it taken 30 cents from the price paid by eastern consumers. The saving has been divided between the two, in different measure at different points or in different seasons, but always the farmer has received a substantially higher price than he used to receive at the same distance from eastern markets, and always the eastern consumer has obtained his food at a lower cost than he used to pay. Natural development of the railway system under free competition has

EXPRESSES CLEVELAND'S POSITION AS TO ANOTHER CANDIDACY.

According to Several Men who are Full of Information—An Alleged Letter of Declaration—Blaine Resolves His Irish Friends—Report that Cleveland Wants to Stop Wielding the Gavel.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The story telegraphed from Washington to the St. Louis Republican, and republished here Saturday morning, that President Cleveland would only declare to a western senator that he would not accept a renomination, has been the political sensation of the day. The whole matter, of course, lacks authentic verification, as the president is naturally silent about it. Col. Lambert, however, says he is quite sure the president has said that he would not accept a renomination; that that question is not engaging his time or attention just now. Many of the president's political friends, while believing the statement attributed to him may not have been in the exact terms indicated, are disposed to believe that it expresses his feelings honestly, but they say this will make him more popular than ever, and when the time comes for his renomination and tender an acceptance imperative.

Senator Cockrell, of Missouri, when asked if he was the western senator who furnished the information about the president's feeling on the question, said he was not, and that he knew nothing about the matter until he saw the papers; and he added: "I think the publication says the president in a false light; but that is only my individual opinion." Senator Vest, who is generally credited with being the western senator to whom the president's statement was made, when asked if he had furnished the date for the St. Louis dispatch, answered the question in this manner: "I have never authorized any statement such as that you mention and as published this morning. If you want my opinion on the matter, I have no hesitation in stating that I believe the fact to be about as stated in the reported interview. I do not believe the president wants to be re-elected. He has publicly stated that he does not believe in second terms, and I have no idea he has been actuated by any ambition to succeed himself; but I think his great ambition is to so administer the government that any honest Democrat can be his successor. I have no doubt that Mr. Cleveland would be gratified by the endorsement of his party and the country. It would be more or less than human if he were not so, but I don't think he wants the office again for any personal ambition. He knows too much about it."

"What he would do if the Democratic party should say to him that he was the only man who could lead them again to victory nobody knows but himself, and he is not the sort of individual who jumps a rail before he reaches it."

"Understand me, this is only my opinion. I am not authorized to speak for the president, and have no such relations with him as to justify any statement from me as to his feelings or intentions. I am only speaking for myself."

Ex-Congressman Anderson, of Ohio, in talking about the matter to a Star reporter, said: "I do not believe the president has announced that he will not accept renomination. If he does not want to be re-elected I am blind."

"Can he get the nomination?" was asked.

"He can; without opposition. . . . He is certain of renomination if he cares for his name to go into office."

A New York Democrat, said to be of prominence and thoroughly familiar with politics in that state, expressed the opinion under that the president would not decline a renomination. "Mr. Cleveland," he said, "will be nominated by acclamation, and will certainly accept. There is nothing in all this talk of his being weak. He will have two-thirds of the New York delegation in the convention, and of course the other third will not count. He will get the delegates from all the up counties in the state, the delegates from the county Democracy, from Kings county, and from Tammany."

Edward Cooper, A. S. Hewitt, Secretary of the Democratic Party, and will influence King's county for the president. There is some opposition to Mr. Cleveland in Tammany hall, but the friends of the administration will be in control. There will be opposition from about Rochester, and Albany, and the state of New York will probably be sent from there to the state convention. All the Democratic papers in the state outside of the city of New York, except The Albany Times and The Rochester Times, are supporting the administration. Syracuse, Lockport, Troy, and other places where Democrats opposed him before he is now being supported."

A VISIT TO MR. BLAINE.

Chicago Irish-Americans Given a Reception in His Private Room.

CHICAGO, April 25.—Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Blaine during his visit here has declined all invitations to appear in public, and kept his room, except when the weather was so bad that he had to go out, he was surprised to receive the Irish-American Republican club. The club selected John P. Finerty and M. P. Brady as orators for the occasion, but when the members of the club to the number of 100 or more had assembled in the club-room No. 4 the club president, Mr. Emmerson Blaine informed them that his father's health absolutely prohibited the fatigue of listening to or making speeches, and that part of the programme had to be omitted. It was also announced that instead of Mr. Blaine going down to the club-room his visitors would see him in his own room, so that instead of the club tendering Mr. Blaine a reception, the distinguished visitor did the receiving.

Consequently Messrs. Finerty and Brady headed the procession and repaired to Mr. Blaine's room, where each gentleman presented an introduction to the Maine statesman and shook hands with him. Mr. Blaine expressed his regret that he had been unable to make the courtesy of such an occasion impossible, but assured those present of his appreciation of the marked manifestation of their regard. Then hoping that they might all meet again, and often he bade them good morning.

A number of German-Americans were also admitted to the ex-secretary's room, and exchanged greetings. Mr. Blaine will leave the city Tuesday afternoon. His appearance indicates that he is far from well.

Another Newspaper Story.

St. Louis, Mo., April 25.—The Republican prints a story to the effect that Col. Donahoe, of New York, told several friends while in Washington City a few days ago that he had been shown the draft of a letter written by President Cleveland, in which, after referring to the opposition to his policy in some quarters of the Democratic party, he declares his determination not to accept a renomination, and suggests that a leader be chosen who can command the united support of the party. He was going to make the letter public at once, but was persuaded to withhold it for the present.

An Allegation Regarding Carlin.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 25.—From private information received by a local Democrat, once prominent in national politics, The Commercial publishes the statement that Hon. John G. Carlisle will not again be a candidate for the speakership of the house of representatives, and has so stated to an intimate friend, but will secure instead the chairmanship of the committee on ways and means. In this position he will be able to take an active part on the floor of the house.

Now the Nation is Safe.

New York, April 25.—Dr. McGlynn, Henry George and a number of their followers have formed a society to be known as the Anti-Poverty society. The object of the society is to spread by such peaceful and law-abiding means as may be found most desirable and efficient a knowledge of the truth that God has made ample provision for the needs of all men during their residence upon earth, and that poverty is the result of human laws, which allow individuals to claim as private property what the Creator has provided for the use of all.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Shoely Explains Sullivan's Mission.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, April 25.—John E. Sullivan and his combination gave an exhibition at the Grand Opera house Saturday night before a fair-sized audience. The fact that sparring would not be allowed caused a great deal of disappointment and many doubts as to the value of the entertainment on this account. The company gave a good exhibition of athletic sport, however, in which Sullivan, Jimmie Carroll, Bob Farrell, George LaBianca, the "Marine," Joe Lamon, and others took part. Before the performance began last Saturday night a few introductory remarks. He explained that the Sullivan combination was organized for the purpose of elevating sparring, and was not intended to introduce the brutal features of prize fighting, but simply to show the science of the human art. He claimed that if the American youth were educated in sparring deadly weapons would be rarely used.

The General Was on Top.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The pending litigation between W. Walter Delmar and E. J. Updegraff on one side and Gen. E. Winslow, president of the St. Louis & San Francisco railway, with the others of that corporation, on the other, resulted Saturday in a rough-and-tumble fight. Judge Donohue had issued an order to show cause why Gen. Winslow and his co-defendants should not be taken into custody for contempt of court in refusing to obey a subpoena. When the deputy sheriffs went to serve the papers they were confronted by Gen. Winslow and in a few seconds the railroad magnate and the officers were struggling on the floor with the general on top.

Had to Go to Nevada.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 25.—During the inquiry Saturday by the legislative committee into the alleged crookedness in municipal affairs here Mr. Pope, of the Citizens' Electric Light Company, said the company had a good deal of opposition from the fire department in erecting poles and stringing wires, and he thought it would be a good idea to make his peace with the fire department by taking Mr. Nevins into the company. Witness understood that he was the "king" as far as the electric wires were concerned in Brooklyn. Chief Engineer Nevins, he said, got $20,000 worth of the stock of the company for nothing. It was understood that all the companies had to go to him, as he was the fountain head.

Manitoba Threatens Rebellion.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 25.—The Canadian Pacific Railway Company seems to be forcing the federal government to dissolve the charter just passed by the provincial legislature here to connect with the American system of railways. In the event of disallowance the road will be constructed in defiance of the Dominion government. Should a clash occur or an attempt be made to stop the construction the people of Manitoba will rebel and secede from the confederation. Much interest is attached to the prospective vote on the question of disallowance in the Ottawa parliament.

Corrigan on the Aggressor.

Dandridge's stable of twenty-six thoroughbreds, including Gracie, Volante, Gallop, Elmout, and Pontoon, the last three being entered for the Derby, arrived at the Louisville Jockey club track Saturday. All are in good condition. Ed Corrigan has twenty-one two-year-old colts here.

Washington City, April 25.—The eastern racing season will open with a meeting of four days at Ivy City, Tuesday, May 3, and continue four days, after which the horses and turfmen will spend a week in Baltimore for the meeting at Pimlico, before the opening of the spring meeting at and around New York for the season meeting of the Brooklyn Jockey club.

Garysburg, New York, and Lincoln, Ill.; Sigourney and Sioux City, Iowa, and the Vigo county fair, Indiana.

Hubert's Challenge.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Gus Hubert, the English sculler, who arrived here April 13, has issued a challenge for boat races, from three to five miles, with Ten Eyck, Hosmer, McKay, Conly, Hannan, Ross, and Lea.

The General Was on Top.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The pending litigation between W. Walter Delmar and E. J. Updegraff on one side and Gen. E. Winslow, president of the St. Louis & San Francisco railway, with the others of that corporation, on the other, resulted Saturday in a rough-and-tumble fight. Judge Donohue had issued an order to show cause why Gen. Winslow and his co-defendants should not be taken into custody for contempt of court in refusing to obey a subpoena. When the deputy sheriffs went to serve the papers they were confronted by Gen. Winslow and in a few seconds the railroad magnate and the officers were struggling on the floor with the general on top.

Had to Go to Nevada.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 25.—During the inquiry Saturday by the legislative committee into the alleged crookedness in municipal affairs here Mr. Pope, of the Citizens' Electric Light Company, said the company had a good deal of opposition from the fire department in erecting poles and stringing wires, and he thought it would be a good idea to make his peace with the fire department by taking Mr. Nevins into the company. Witness understood that he was the "king" as far as the electric wires were concerned in Brooklyn. Chief Engineer Nevins, he said, got $20,000 worth of the stock of the company for nothing. It was understood that all the companies had to go to him, as he was the fountain head.

Manitoba Threatens Rebellion.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 25.—The Canadian Pacific Railway Company seems to be forcing the federal government to dissolve the charter just passed by the provincial legislature here to connect with the American system of railways. In the event of disallowance the road will be constructed in defiance of the Dominion government. Should a clash occur or an attempt be made to stop the construction the people of Manitoba will rebel and secede from the confederation. Much interest is attached to the prospective vote on the question of disallowance in the Ottawa parliament.

Corrigan on the Aggressor.

NEW YORK, April 25.—It is stated on high authority that the archbishop is preparing an extended tour for the summer, in which he will expound Roman Catholic doctrine and warn the followers of Dr. McGlynn against positions to which they will be liable if they continue in their course.

—The committee for the Guards' ball this evening extended to all their friends who have in former years attended their dances a cordial invitation to attend this one. Invitations were limited in number, consequently many were overlooked.

—After May 1st the bricklayers, plasterers, stone masons, hod carriers and all others employed on mason work in this city, intend to quit work at five o'clock on Saturday. —A fine art entertainment will be given at the First M. E. church Wednesday evening next for the benefit of the church extension fund. Fine photographs, sixteen feet square and brilliantly illuminated by the time light, will illustrate noted cities and buildings in all parts of the world, together with several views in and around our own city of Janesville. Admission 15 cents; two for 25 cents; children 10 cents.

—An editor who has been the wail, howl and woe of his people, the hat that I bought as a gift to my wife; a small piece of straw with an etching placed on it, the last one that I'll buy while I still have my life. The hat with a bird and a big swinging feather, and tattered traps that I can't even name, with stuffed birds and roses, and pieces of leather, and a bill from the dealer as long as my frame; that stylish spring bonnet, that new fashioned bonnet, that fancy priced bonnet that knocked my purse lame.

—The superintendent of the street railway is not suffering from rheumatism as many of his friends suppose, but he was out yesterday looking at some horse car service. He took a short ride in a buggy drawn by an animal which he desired to purchase. He only drove a couple of blocks, when both he and the owner picked themselves up out of the gutter in time to see the horse demolish what was left of the buggy. Charley is not in the horse market to-day, but is nursing a lame shoulder.

—The following complimentary notice for one of Mr. H. S. Woodruff's famous colts, sired by Joe Bassett, appeared in the last issue of "Danton's Spirit of the Turf." "Harry Bassett is the name given to the handsomest colt on earth by Joe Bassett (sire of Johnstone 2004); dam by Withers' Election 2004; brother to Daniel Lumber; 2d dam by Hambletonian. The owner of this colt, Mr. H. Yates, of this city, expects this fellow to carry him a mile in 2:20 some day. There is not a horse or weak sport about him, and if he does not make a turf horse, Mr. Yates is delighted with him, and has named the racehorse Harry Bassett, in honor of Joe Bassett, his sire, and Harry Withers, the famous trotter, as well as the noted race horse Harry Bassett. He is a rich brown, with a star, snip and one white ank behind; a thor, snip and head; long, tapering ear, well pointed and beautifully poised; short, broad back, nicely turned round, well raised dock, broad stifles, strong thighs and tendons, cannon bones like ivory and femora like whip-cords. In short, a perfect horse at this moment."

—With their usual enterprise the Young Ladies society of the Congregational church have secured the Mendelssohn Quintette club, of Boston, for a concert on Wednesday evening, May 4, at the Congregational church. This club has been in existence thirty-seven years and to-day the standard of excellence is, as it has always been, of the highest. This club is composed of artists well known in this country and in Europe. John Maquardt, the first violinist, being one of the few players in this country who possesses the requirements necessary to be the leader of such an organization as the Mendelssohn Quintette club. Fritz Schell also enjoys a high reputation as a violinist. Wm. Schade the late soloist has been a member of the club for many years and is noted for his technical ability which is of the most brilliant character as well as purity and delicacy of tone and expression. Mr. Thomas Ryan, the clarinet player, is probably better known and identified with this organization than any other member of the club as he was one of the original members. His wonderful playing is too well known to need further mention. Louis Blumensberg the violinist is noted for his remarkable playing on this most beautiful but most difficult solo instrument. Miss Alice Ryan, daughter of Mr. Thomas Ryan, is the vocalist of the club. She has a fine soprano voice of great sympathy and dramatic quality.

—Col. Barr Robbins has just returned from Chicago, and after a month spent with railroad officials, in an effort to make contracts, he is obliged to submit to the iron-haul interstate commerce law, which, interpreted, means an advance of 15 per cent. on the transportation of show trains, and three cents per mile for all attaches and employees. In other words, the traveling expenses of all railroad shows are increased from eight to one hundred per cent. This being the case, the Forepaugh and Burton shows will not attempt to travel in the West this season, as railway fare in the Eastern States is only two cents per mile, while in the Western States it varies from three to four cents. The Forepaugh show was now in Janesville in June, but it is now officially proclaimed that the show will not go west of Chicago this season. Col. Robbins will make a trip to the Western States. His railroad contractor, Mott. E. Shorman, started out a week ago, followed by the contracting agent, Harry Murray, while Mr. George K. Steele, the general advertising agent left with his advance car Friday. Mr. A. M. Hayes, in charge of another advertising force, will go a week later. The show will take the road on the 7th of May making the first stand at Evansville and from there to Beloit, Holmdale, Elgin, etc. Colonel Robbins has decided to give Janesville a benefit this year and will be here sometime in June. The show is thoroughly equipped and will rank with the best on the road this season. The mammoth cage which has excited so much curiosity is to be occupied by a mammoth whale 31 feet in length. This sea monster arrived in New York the 19th inst., and is now on tour. See announcement of date and special attractions later.

JANESVILLE.

As a Business Center and as a Summer Resort.

No person conversant with the situation will deny the fact that Janesville has passed the Rubicon of possible defeat or failure in all that tends to build and strengthen socially, financially and in a business point of view. Every stranger who visits the "Bower City" is impressed with the grandeur of the situation, and if he is not constrained to take up his abode within, he at least departs with favorable impressions and the full satisfaction of having been entertained with all the hospitality characteristic of places of greater fame. To an old resident who has been permitted to witness the city expand beyond the confines of the snug little village of less than a quarter of a century ago—whence the graduating process by which the city has attained to the dignity of a metropolitan center, comprising wealth, thrift and enterprise rarely seen in places of like magnitude; a city of massive and compact business structures, palatial residences crowning all the hills, and the hum of diversified industries playing to the music of the waterfall; to him it might seem as a dream, were it not for the sober reality of active career during all these years.

Some of Janesville's active workers are still living, and can recall the scenes of former years, no doubt with feelings of pride in the growth and development of the place laid out for the foundation of the City of Janesville on Rock river.

Nothing succeeds so better than success, and this city may be truly said to claim for itself that it has made it the pivotal center for railroads and a class of manufacturers that will double their present facilities are another decade. The over-crowded manufacturing centers of the east will look to the west as being more central, and no city in the west offers more present facilities than the Janesville. As a summer resort, or a place in which to live the year round, the attractions of Janesville are wide open in all the outlines of diversity, comprising parks, forest, grove, health-giving springs, artesian wells, pleasure drives, business arcades, all the delicacies of the season, the finest opera house, and the most romantic and beautiful city in Southern Wisconsin.

T. E. Moore, of Thorndike, Mass. "I have used Dr. Seth Arnold's Cough Killer in my family for a number of years and find none better." For sale by all druggists. Price 25c, 50c, and $1.00 per bottle.

THIS MORNING'S FIRE.

An alarm of fire was turned in at 3:30 o'clock this morning, which summoned the fire department to the building on North Main street, occupied by B. Malone, as a saloon and residence. The department responded promptly, and soon had the fire under control. The building is a two-story frame, just south of Fitcher's bay stable. The rear part of the building was all in flames when the heavy volume of smoke penetrated the building next north, owned and occupied as a store-room and residence by Mr. T. F. Murray. The smoke and noise of the fire awakened Mr. Murray, who hastened to the east side engine house and gave the alarm. Just how the fire originated, is a mystery. The building is owned by Mrs. Mariab Kane, and was insured for $400 in the Northwestern, of Milwaukee, with the agency of Silas Hayner. The loss will hardly reach 50 per cent. of that amount. Mrs. N. F. Malone had an insurance of $300 on the saloon stock and household furniture, in the Traders, of Chicago, also with the agency of Silas Hayner. Some of the goods were removed, and it is impossible at this time to estimate the loss, but it will not reach the amount of the insurance. The fire department did some very good work, notwithstanding the fact that they had been out of practice for nearly three days, that time having elapsed without a run, and some of the men had almost forgot that they were members of the department.

AN INTERESTING RECALL.

On Saturday afternoon Miss Julie C. Wilson gave a piano rental at her home, which was one of special interest to the younger portion of her people for whom it was particularly given. These who took part in the recital were Misses Ella Barker, Mary Barker, Lillie Van Sickle, Ina Stevens, Mattie Tobias, Libbie Anderson, Stella Tobias, Kittie Barnes, Nellie Moseley, Mabel Sunnway, Clara Paul and Agnes Sunnway. There was a large variety of piano numbers given in which the young ladies acquitted themselves splendidly, showing that under the instruction of Mrs. Wilson they had received careful and skillful training. In addition to the music various games were indulged in by the pupils which made an important contribution to the pleasure and profit of the occasion. The musical and social festivities of the afternoon closed with a beautiful supper of refreshments.

No washing compounds or soap is Fairbanks' Unrivaled Laundry Soap.

NEW GLOBUS EXTENSION.

C. W. & St. Paul Railroad.

The job of grading for the extension, is well under way along the whole line from Albany to New Glarus. The contractors have subdivided the work in sections of one, two and three miles. The different gangs of men are busily engaged in throwing dirt. This week will witness an increase in the force, and it is far to presume that the road bed will be ready for the ties inside of the limit condition for finishing the grade. The C. W. & St. Paul Railway company are delivering fencing material at Albany this week.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer indicated 36 degrees above zero. Cloudy with west wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 45 degrees above zero. Cloudy with southwest wind. For the corresponding hours last year the register was 53 and 63 degrees above zero. At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 34 degrees above zero. Clear, with south wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 53 degrees above zero. Cloudy with west wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 44 and 58 degrees above zero.

SPECIAL MEETING.

The members of the Business Men's Association are notified that a special meeting will be held on Monday evening, April 25th, to consider what action should be taken in this city to secure the through trains between Chicago and St. Paul in accordance with the understanding which was made between the city of Janesville and the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Company.

O. F. NOWLAN, President.

There is very little wear on clothes when you use Fairbanks' Soaps.

A SUNDAY SHOOTING.

George Trenwith Resists an Officer, and is Badly Hurt.

He Tried to Run the Village of Milton, but Does Not Succeed.

A SEVERE INJURY.

About noon yesterday George Trenwith, and Jack Sullivan, of this city with a companion named Hayes, were making things lively at Milton.

They were just forcing an entrance into a hotel bar room when somebody called Marshal Keith. The marshal stepped in and placed the two under arrest. They resisted fiercely, and for a time seemed likely to come out bloodied. Finally in self defense the officer drew his revolver and fired. The ball struck Trenwith in the groin, inflicting a severe wound. The other two men were soon overpowered and handcuffed, and the three were brought to Janesville, reaching here at three o'clock. Trenwith's wound was examined by Dr. Trenwith who found the bullet just under the skin, near the spine. The injury was not thought dangerous, although it seemed very painful. Trenwith and his two companions are now in jail.

THE CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge Bennett opens the April Term This Morning.

At the opening session of the April term this morning Judge Bennett called the calendar, dismissed the cases of Leavitt against the C. & N. W. railway and of the State ex rel Giblin against the supervisors of the town of Union, and placed on the day calendar for to-morrow the cases of Howe vs. Eithorpe estate, Thompson vs. Miller, Sanford vs. Wilson, Dodd vs. Dunne et al., Hockleyman vs. Hodson, Dawson et al. vs. Carpenter, Dawson vs. George, Barrett vs. Badger Soap Co., J. B. Kiel against the C. & N. W. R. Co. and others.

It has been rumored that the C. & N. W. Railway Company are pushing a line from Rockford to Broadhead and Madison via Albany. The survey is completed from Rockford to Broadhead. A proposition has been made by representatives of the company to the effect that certain rights of way shall be made over to the company for their faithful performance in protecting the work. An effort is being made to raise the necessary contingent to secure the new road. The west side of Thomas street is wanted for an outlet to the north, (the C. M. & St. Paul railway company occupying the east side), but there seems to be manifest some opposition on the part of property owners on the west side of said street, the damage being estimated up in the thousands. A route near the county line has been looked out. It is not definitely known which of the above routes will be adopted. It is also rumored that a line is being run by the way of Oxford, Green, Quincy. It is not clearly established that the C. & N. W. company are at the bottom of affairs, some hinting that the S. & O. are quietly at work. The surveyors refuse to disclose the name of the company, but say it is not the C. M. & St. P.

Fairbanks' Soaps are the best in the market. Try them next wash day.

AN INTERESTING RECALL.

On Saturday afternoon Miss Julie C. Wilson gave a piano rental at her home, which was one of special interest to the younger portion of her people for whom it was particularly given. These who took part in the recital were Misses Ella Barker, Mary Barker, Lillie Van Sickle, Ina Stevens, Mattie Tobias, Libbie Anderson, Stella Tobias, Kittie Barnes, Nellie Moseley, Mabel Sunnway, Clara Paul and Agnes Sunnway. There was a large variety of piano numbers given in which the young ladies acquitted themselves splendidly, showing that under the instruction of Mrs. Wilson they had received careful and skillful training. In addition to the music various games were indulged in by the pupils which made an important contribution to the pleasure and profit of the occasion. The musical and social festivities of the afternoon closed with a beautiful supper of refreshments.

AT THE CRECHERES.

A Soldier's First Battle.

A veteran of the civil war gives the experience of his first battle. The hours did not crowd into minutes, but the minutes did not extend into hours. Frequently found, on consulting my watch, that occurrences apparently of an hour's duration, were really less than a half or a quarter of that time.

As the sun rose, it passed into a cloud. When it emerged, I fully expected it would be some distance toward the zenith, and was surprised to find it had advanced only a few degrees.

There was a light shower that lasted less than ten minutes; I judged it had been twenty. The conclusion of the troops on the field appeared slow and awkward. They were really affected with great promptness.

Gen. Lyon was killed before 9 o'clock, as I very well knew. It was some days before I could rid myself of the impression that his death occurred not far from noon.

The experience of every person that field. I think it has been known by many, on the occasion of their first battle
